Stepping Stones to Fame

Foreword

EVERY June for the last twelve years, our older brothers and sisters graduating from our Alma Mater have published a memory book known as the BREIDLIN. Imprinted on its pages were the stories in words and pictures of their days at Coughlin. Similar to these Coughlin BREIDLINS were the old family albums, found in nearly every American home.

The Seniors of 1935 have taken as the theme for their yearbook the idea of the Family Album. They have tried to convey this idea to the reader, on every page, in the writing, the shape of the pictures, the engravings and, most of all, by using for the first time in our history the two colors on the pages. We believe that this coloring helps to carry our album idea to the reader as well as to beautify our book.

The Senior panels this year are oval instead of square and are almost twice the size of the pictures in previous BREIDLINS. The engravings also bring out the album theme and give color to our pages.

Last but not least, for the first time at Coughlin High School, a BREIDLIN is published with a stiff cover. If you, the students, like the book, we on the staff may well feel that our efforts are repaid by your appreciation.

Dedication

To

Mr. J. H. Super

Because

when a task was to be done, he never shirked the labor involved in its doing;

when the students were distressed by some unkindness of fate, he showed them the joys of this world were tenfold as great as its sorrows;

in him is exemplified a living ideal of courage, honesty, efficiency and every essential of a noble character;

we have always loved, admired and respected him;

as the great leader of a wonderful school, it is only right that he have a place of honor in our Family Album;

we, the students, believe it is fitting, and consider it a joy, to dedicate this, the twelfth edition of the Breidlin, to

MR. J. H. SUPER.

Alma Mater

(Tune, "Annie Lisle")

Hail! to Coughlin, Alma Mater,
Stepping stone to fame,
For the student and the athlete
With his zeal aflame.
Pleasant memories cluster 'round it,
Of its prestige proud,
While the promise of the future,
Beams through every cloud.

When life's noontime joy has vanished
Lost in reverie,
Like the glory of the sunset,
School-day dreams we see.

Chorus:

Winning in the field and forum,
Keep the goal in view;
Shout in chorus for our banner,
Wave the Red and Blue.

—Bessie Stella Jones, '07.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1935

Class Song

1st Verse.

Sing, 35! We will be true
To high school colors, the red and the blue.
Proudly we praise those happy days;
In parting we sing to you—

2nd Verse.

Dreams of the past fulfilled at last;
Time has rolled on, graduation is here
And with the dawn each will be gone
Away from thee—Coughlin dear—

Chorus:

Visions of the days we knew
Swiftly pass now before us;
Joys of high school life are o'er,
But memories fair will endure.
Though now we must leave,
We pause ere we part,
For as we tread the paths of life
This hour will live in our heart.

MISS EDITH MARIE HOFFMAN

Senior Class History

WE are fortunate in being able to leave the Coughlin family along with one who has been vitally close to us during our stay, Miss Edith Hoffman. On graduation night Miss Hoffman will complete her activities at Coughlin and we are proud to include her in our senior roster.

In 1931, a group of children whose perambulators had just been placed in the attic as relics, toddled up the front steps of Coughlin High School to commence a more formal education. What an infantile entrance that was, but what a transformation has taken place!

We started our career as members of Coughlin's family by building a firm foundation with friendships as mortar, and some minor activities as our girders.

Our sophomore year found us ready to develop our talents by joining the many clubs that our progenitors had built up. We injected our youthful zest into the older activities and felt that we had added much to the building commenced the preceding year.

In our junior year, we cemented the friendships begun in the first two years. We were recognized as real members of the Coughlin family. Our pictures were sure to appear in the family album now, as the wise elders of the family.

Our new and superior position as seniors and our newly acquired power did not act as an opiate and lull us into somnolence, but added to the ardor with which we pursued our varied interests, and aided in the establishment of a record which we are justified in pointing out to the younger members of the family.

Twelve

Senior Class Officers

THOMAS GILL

Mantle Orator

Who is that dynamic speaker that thrills us all with his fiery speeches? It's Tom Gill, our mantle orator; truly this family album would not be complete without his pleasant face.

Tom's splendid personality, his amiability, and his dependability have won for him countless friends. As president of the Science Club we appreciated his good nature and kindly ways. He is also listed on the rolls of Clio, French Club, and the Chess and Checker Club.

DONALD McHUGH

President

May the best man win—Aye, and what a battle it was, but out of the commotion and din comes a quiet reserved lad in the person of Donald McHugh to win his way to the most honored of positions, the presidency of the Senior Class.

Donald has steadily gained in popularity during his four years at Coughlin. His high scholastic record can be verified by his enrollment in the National Honor Society. He is also entrusted with the responsible position of Head Bank Cashier.

LOUIS DYMOND

Treasurer

One of the true men of the Senior Class is our senior Treasurer. Louis or "Lupo" Dymond, as he is known to everyone, is a typical athlete, having served on the varsity football squad for four years, a feat which is very seldom attained. Lupo is president of the Lettermen's Club. But this is not all. Ask anyone about his performance on the basketball floor or on the track. Remember way back when we were "freshies" and "sophs," well, Lupo was captain of the freshman and reserve basketball squad.

MILDRED AICHER

Secretary

A cupful of charm, personality, good nature, and patience mixed with a dash of humor, dignity and perseverance; and we have Mildred Aicher, capably filling her position in our album family as its secretary.

Millie is one of the most popular girls of the Commercial course. A member of Sorosis for three years, her willing assistance was welcome on the Clio-Sorosis Reception and Banquet Committees.

She has been a wide-awake, up and coming secretary since entering Coughlin.

MISS COUGHLIN

The Younger Members of the Coughlin Family

WE are sorry to see one leave who has been closely associated with us, but we are proud to have a real family album picture of our beloved Miss Nan S. Coughlin for our own album and still prouder to have it appear on our page.

In a lethargic state of blissful inactivity, let's look back over our years at Coughlin.

Gazing sheepishly at ourselves in our first years, we can readily excuse our frivolities and youthful capriciousness because of our unmellowed years. But we managed to ripen a trifle by joining various departments of Coughlin.

Boldly now we stare with incredulity at the attainments of our junior year. The honor rolls proved our brilliancy. We put this brilliancy into other channels, with amazing results. Our place in the family album is secure.

Sager and older, we can review our first year as ignominious freshmen with knowing smiles.

Taking advantage of the many opportunities afforded us here at Coughlin, we earnestly if not quietly and sagaciously, utilized them to the best of our ability.

Our second year finds us with a secure niche in the family album of Coughlin because of our scholastic attainments and outside activities.

Like most youngsters will do, trying to appear mature young people, we giggled a good deal of the way through our first year. However, we soon formed friendships that melted the strands of uncertain loneliness into firm binding ties. We then joined the various family groups. We are pleased to join the Coughlin family and our activities make us proud to be found on the album pages.

Junior Class Officers

CLAIRE DETTMORE

Secretary

The junior class has chosen for its secretary a young lady who fills that position most admirably. Claire Dettmore possesses the ability, charm and wit which make the ideal secretary.

Masquers, G. A. A., Sorosis, are all justly proud to have her among their ranks. She enjoys music too, having played the piano in both the Freshman and Reserve Orchestras.

JAMES SUTHERLAND

Mantle Orator

In previous years it has been the custom of the junior class to elect a Mantle Orator who was smaller than the rest of the students.

James, although a comparative newcomer, is well-known. His voice is entirely incommensurate with his stature, being fluent, powerful and well-modulated.

Our Family Album is proud to present him. May the gods preserve that voice.

HUGH JONES

President

Versatile Hugh Jones, pianist of the Varsity Orchestra, member of the Senior Accompanists' Class and a noted Thespian has one more office to his credit, that of President of the Junior Class.

Hugh is a member of Commercial course, but he fits in with any crowd. Once called on, he never shirks his duty, a quality that should make him a worthy president.

Our Family Album presents his picture. The class of '36 is proud of its president.

*Sincerely
Hugh*

National Honor Society

Do you remember the above sentence from the Breidlin Campaign play? Whether you do or not, we offer you their picture in our Family Album issue of the Breidlin.

No student can wish for more than to belong to this national organization which recognizes the high qualities of students from all parts of the country. When you consider that they have displayed service, character, and leadership since first entering Coughlin High School, you appreciate the fact that there is such a society to honor these diligent students. The meticulous task of selecting members for this society is in the hands of a faculty group of four and the principal. Each applicant's marks are gone over and he is ultimately judged by testing for the above qualities. Fifteen per-cent of the graduating class can be selected. The junior class is usually represented by five per-cent of their number. Still there is something more important, more far-reaching than either the Junior Ushers or the National Honor Society. We hope that everyone of you may someday become members of that visionary body, the “Society of International Fame” of which you are a potential member.

Junior Ushers

SUSPENSE and bated breath mark the juniors' attitudes in the few minutes when Mr. Super reads, in chapel, the names of the students who have been chosen for membership to Junior Ushers. Why? The juniors realize that this is the select group to represent their class, called not only because of their scholastic ability, but also because of their individual characters.

Our Family Album contains many family photographs; this is one worthy to appear opposite that of the National Honor Society.

Every member of the Junior Ushers has one ambition: to become a member of the National Honor Society. Bear in mind it does not follow that every member of the Junior Ushers is assured membership in the National Honor Society. They must all work to maintain the position they secured when first selected as members of this society. Then, and only then, are they considered for membership in their most coveted goal, the National Honor Society.

Their efficient adviser is Mr. F. H. Sigler, who has filled that position since 1928.

SECOND ROW: Joseph Dreier, Thomas Gill, Andrew O'Malley, Harold Hyman, James Mayock, Ward Hunsinger, Joseph Cimmet, Elwood Myers.

Clio

ONE who leafs through an album expects it to be a book of memories. Invariably those graduating hold one organization in their memory because of the social contacts and friendships formed there. In most cases this place is held by Clio, Coughlin's oldest club.

Clio is primarily a social group where the students come together and hold musical programs and plays. It is the only club of this kind in the school.

This year a talk on the universal hobby, stamp collecting, was given. The speaker was one of our faculty, who is an authority on this fascinating pursuit, being a collector himself.

Fifty-six

The programs for the club are planned by a committee selected for that purpose. . They assign different topics to various members week by week. In this way they rotate from the first member to the last. Everybody then shares in the program. They are made to feel that they have a definite and active duty to contribute to the success of Clio. Everybody cooperates and it is inevitable that wherever there is cooperation there is success.

SOROSIS OFFICERS

SECOND ROW: Ruth Kane, Irene Juris, Dorothy Hinz, Helen Baughman, Alice Livings.

Sorosis

SOROSIS, the "big sister" in our book of Family Portraits, has been one of the most active clubs of Coughlin for the past forty-four years. In spite of the fact that it is the oldest girls' association in the school, it has lost none of the spirit of its younger days. Membership in this society is open to the girls of any of the three upper classes. It is not necessary to possess dramatic, artistic or musical ability. All a member need have is a fair scholastic standing, and she will enter upon an equal basis with the other members.

Meetings are held each Tuesday in the Clio Room. Programs, both musical and literary, are planned in advance by a special committee. The two most enjoyable and satisfactory affairs of the year were the Clio-Sorosis Reception and the Banquet, which were both made possible by Sorosis, together with Clio.

With the competent supervision of Miss Sturdevant, Miss Gillespie, and Miss Tischler, the society has been able to maintain its tradition of promoting acquaintances and friendship, and of advancing literary and musical culture.

Lettermen's Club

THE Lettermen's Club represents perhaps the most dominating force in extra-curricular activities, high school athletics; and it may indeed be classified among the outstanding organizations in the Coughlin Album. It is comprised of those boys whose exceptional records have earned them a letter in their respective sports. The accomplishment of this feat is looked upon with the greatest esteem, and consequently the boys receive the coveted "C" only after long hours of faithful training.

On March 21, the annual athletic banquet was presented which all the athletes in the school attended. This was the method by which the school saw fit to bestow especial honor upon her athletically inclined sons.

Although not engaging frequently in school social affairs, the Lettermen's Club of 1935 has established an enviable record by the unsurpassed manner in which its members have completed one of the greatest athletic years in the history of Coughlin's teams.

Girls' Athletic Association

WHAT more can anyone want than a girl with character, excellent mentality, fine physical appearance, and a spirit of good sportsmanship? All these qualities characterize the members of the Girls' Athletic Association. To become a member of this club it is necessary to have played on a varsity or class team for at least one season; basketball, volleyball, fieldball, track and tumbling are the teams in which a Coughlin girl may participate. She must have high marks and a good standing among her classmates.

The large membership in this organization is due to the fact that there are many athletically inclined girls at Coughlin.

The club originated twenty years ago with the purpose of promoting sportsmanship, leadership, and of aiding the various girls' athletic teams. The members have carried this purpose out to its full extent and have successfully maintained the association's previous high rating. The class of '35 takes this opportunity for expressing their good wishes and the best of luck to the G. A. A. of '36.

German Club

If you want to hear singing in a foreign language, all you need do is attend one of the regular meetings of the Deutscher Verein. The success of this particular organization is due to the splendid supervision of the faculty adviser, Mr. Warmkessel, and the spirit of cooperation predominating among the members of the club.

The club was founded eight years ago. Membership is restricted to seniors, who have passing German grades and juniors who have high averages in their German work. These students, interested in all that pertains to the language, have derived knowledge as well as pleasure from the German games, jokes, anecdotes, riddles, and literary readings, as well as the singing of German folk songs at the meetings held every two weeks; and above all they have furthered their acquaintance with a German background beyond the classroom. One of the immensely enjoyed occasions of the year was the annual Christmas Party. All who were present can truthfully say it was a success.

May we hope this club will always continue to grow in membership, and power.

French Club

AT about the middle of our family book we approach the French Club, which has been founded for the purpose of enabling the members to secure a better acquaintance and knowledge of the language they study.

It is optional as to whether or not a French student wishes to join this club.

We have known for quite a while, the only way really to learn a language is to converse in it. The French Club realizes the need for this. Their business meetings are conducted entirely in the French tongue.

However this is not the entire range of their activities. They study many things that have to do with the French people and their customs.

Talks are given by the members on the geography of France, its customs, songs, people and the events occurring there today. An interesting topic of discussion this year was the part that the French people played in the colonization of North America.

The club is sponsored by Miss Katherine Toohey, Dean of the Girls. This club has been her hobby for a number of years, and occupies its present status in Coughlin mainly through her earnest and interested efforts in its behalf.

Masquers

TURNING the pages of our album we tarry a bit at the picture of Masquers, the senior dramatic club of the school. Its membership is limited to those juniors and seniors who show definite dramatic ability. The applicants for membership try out before a board of examiners.

Two or three critics are appointed at every meeting to give their opinion of the play that is presented. They tell the members of the club and the cast of the play the faults that they have observed and the need for their correction in the future. By this constructive method of criticism the other members profit by the casts' mistakes.

It is usually the custom to present the play that has been adjudged the best, in chapel for the school's entertainment.

The members of Masquers through the medium of their plays, their study of stage mechanics, and the allied arts of the theatre, receive training that enables them to appreciate and understand the art of acting; this training also enables them better to appreciate worthwhile plays and movies.

Buskins

THE curtain rises, and we see before us Buskins, the freshman-sophomore dramatic club. These youthful members of our Coughlin family hold an important place in our Album of Memories. For a number of years only sophomores were admitted to the club, but this year a new plan was submitted whereby a limited number of freshmen could also obtain membership by passing tryout tests. If the test proved that the student had talent he would be admitted as an associate member.

The faculty adviser is Mrs. Ruth Merrill, who so ably directed the clever play, "The King's English," which was presented by Buskins in chapel. The play was given in connection with "Good English Week."

This club not only provides a social activity for the under-classmen, but it is a great asset to its members and the school in general. The early training received in this club enables the students to improve their dramatic abilities in preparation for more active work as upper-classmen. The club held regular meetings at which short plays were given by chosen groups of students. These plays were presented for the pleasure and experience it afforded the club members.

Science Club

THE revelations constantly being made by science and its devotees, place this profession as one of the foremost in the wide field of vocations. To encourage the youthful scientist of our family, and to expose to him wonders of science that he did not contact in class, the Science Club was formed. Naturally enough, this club immediately came to the fore because of the important nature of the work which it embraced.

This year the executive seats were held by Thomas Gill and Charles Hunter. Under their leadership, the floor was held open at all times for discussions pertaining to subjects of scientific interest. To heighten the keen interest in the club, movies were shown. These pictures varied in subject matter, but all showed things of current interest to the world of science. Messrs. F. H. Super and P. B. Lewis, faculty advisers, explained the moving pictures.

This club is to be congratulated for their efforts to promote an interest in science among our students. They deserve a high and revered place in the family album of Coughlin High School.

Aviation Club

SINCE the beginning of time, when early man watched the birds above wheeling and arching in flight it has been his ambition to fly. As civilization progressed, his dream, as we know, was realized. Through the invention of the airplane he could now imitate the birds of the sky.

Aviation, the art of flying, has become very important commercially in our modern world today. It has created a demand for trained and able men. Because of the opportunities it offers it has interested thousands of young men and boys who desire to know more about its various aspects with the possible view of taking it up as their life's work.

Clubs of interested boys have sprung up all over the country. We have one of these at Coughlin, the Aviation Club.

The boys of this club study all the popular makes of airplanes. They learn their operation, and the thing for which each type is noted.

The boys also make scale models and flying models of the large planes. They are exact duplicates and require patience and craftsmanship to construct.

Cashiers' Association

EVERY successful commercial enterprise is founded on a sound, substantial economic system. Thus, any institution whose scope is so protracted, would naturally play a leading role in high school activities and ranks a prominent place in our album.

The Bank Cashiers' Association has endeavored to enlighten its members in the science of money management by teaching them the practical value of thrift.

Certain outside forces hinder Coughlin from attaining excellent results. Nevertheless, some students have acquired the habit of thrift; and these favored individuals will undoubtedly receive permanent effects in the advancement of their material fortunes.

Meetings are held every second Friday of the month at which both cashier and assistant are in attendance from each roll-call. The important business of the organization is then transacted, followed by an instructive and entertaining program. Current events concerning the present day monetary system are interestingly portrayed, while other students reveal the secrets of our complicated economics.

Journal Reporters' Association

WHAT an odd book the Family Album would be if the picture and write-up of the Journal Reporters' Association were omitted. Every other Thursday in Room 26, this select group of students meets to hear interesting talks and discussions, mostly about newspaper writing. Each class and club has its representative in this club in order to make known to the school the work of its unit through the Class Notes and Journal, respectively.

Miss Sturdevant and Miss Pace, as advisers, have helped considerably in securing the best possible speakers. This group has established a closer feeling with the other city schools by inviting their editors to speak at its meetings. A debating team was formed this year, and debates on both current and educational subjects were held for the enjoyment of the members.

Again this year competitive examinations were compiled by the members of the Board of Publications so that only the deserving were chosen. This year, they have worked hard and long to make their class and club notes better than usual, and they have surpassed all expectations in doing so. With a large number of under class members, this group is bound to be a most important organization in years to come.

Commercial Art Club

TALENT — yes and more than that — the will to work. The Wednesday Art Club or Commercial Art Club is formed entirely of boys who are chosen solely because of their talent. The membership of this club is limited to twenty-five members, who are chosen by Mrs. Stahl at the beginning of the school term.

The Wednesday Art Club studies various types of advanced work which cannot be taken up in the regular classes. The club members reap a great deal of practical experience since they take care of all JOURNAL and BREIDLIN work as well as the painting of the posters and scenery used in other school activities.

In the fall of the year the club enrolled twenty-five members, the quota for this organization. This club is kept small so that the work may be accomplished more rapidly and thoroughly. After the club is definitely organized no new members are added, for repeating work for newcomers would hinder the progress of the club.

We feel sure that many fine artists will graduate from this group, and will some day bring honor to our notable family.

Thursday Art Club

ON this page of our Family Album we have a picture of a club of which we all should be proud. This group is composed entirely of girls, who meet in the first three lunch periods every Thursday. Any freshman, sophomore, junior or senior girl who is interested enough in art to work hard is eligible.

This year these art students have not only worked at drawing, but have found other phases of it extremely interesting. During the course of the year they took trips to many art exhibitions, the principal ones being the Woman's Club Exhibit, and the display of Oriental rugs in the Boston Store.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Stahl these girls have worked on silhouetting, figure drawing and commercial art work.

The most important theme of this year's work has been designing, with the final problem being the application of design on linoleum block prints.

Although most of the members of this group do not expect to follow up this line of work, they are intensely interested; and the underclass members have hopes of some day belonging to a commercial art club.

The Band

COUGHLIN is proud of the boys in this popular unit. Who has not marveled at their neat appearance as they march around the stadium heralding the coming of a fast and furious football game? Dressed in their white trousers, red and blue capes, and playing their shining instruments, they form an impressive picture indeed, as they are gracefully led through their uniform drill by their jaunty drum-major.

This group is composed of forty-six boys, who, under the capable direction of Mr. Paul B. Lewis, have often entertained you in the past with musical concerts. During football season you have been delighted to have them play for you at various times during the lunch periods.

You might wonder how this talented group could organize so quickly as to play in the early football games. Well, the answer is that from year to year they allow underclassmen to be a part of their unit; and in the following year these boys are well experienced, and ready in the early fall to start practicing for coming occasions that might demand their services. We are proud to have the picture of this valuable organization in our Family Album.

Varsity Orchestra

THE high school orchestras of our country are today the training schools of our musicians of tomorrow. Coughlin's Varsity Orchestra demonstrates the above statement by taking students who are unskilled and new to orchestra work and developing them, before they leave the school, into capable members of the high school orchestra.

Through the many rehearsals and practices which a successful orchestra must have, these musicians secure for themselves a wealth of valuable experience.

Many of them earn considerable sums of money by playing in orchestras at dances or other affairs. This is made possible through their knowledge of orchestra work derived from their participation in the high school orchestra.

Our orchestra is under the baton of Paul B. Lewis, a faculty member, who has served successfully in this capacity for the past few years.

It is considered an honor to belong to Coughlin's Varsity Orchestra, but aside from the honor it also means hard work.

To weld a group of students into a rhythmic orchestra takes hours of hard, intensive work on the part of the leader and on the part of the orchestra members themselves.

Reserve Orchestra

"PRACTICE makes perfection." The members of the Reserve Orchestra have adopted this as their slogan, and under the capable direction of Mr. C. F. Nagro, they endeavor to live up to its teachings at their practice sessions, which are held every Thursday.

Hesitating on this page of our Family Album, we marvel at the fine appearance of this organization. To be a member one must have a substantial knowledge of the instrument he owns and a desire to improve his talent; all members are taught the fundamentals necessary for ensemble work. Due to the fact that this group is composed entirely of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, many were misled as to its musical ability. After hearing them, however, they immediately changed their opinion.

At various times during the year, we have been thrilled by their superb talent; especially, on March 18, when they played in chapel in place of the varsity orchestra. This, however, was not their only important appearance, for it was this group that played for the night school's commencement and the opening of Music Week.

 SECOND ROW: Edward Heffren, Joseph Syron, Marie Rusnak, Francis Hamblett, Josephine Kolziuwiz, Sidney Berkowitz, Mr. C. F. Nagro.

Freshman Orchestra

THE Freshman Orchestra — The Family Album, both should be associated with one another because this group is "Junior" of our "orchestra family." Upon first entering this high school, anyone musically inclined is found asking the question, "Where do I get my first training in musical activity?"

A conclusive answer would be: in the Freshman Orchestra, you can build up your inclinations toward musical activity. And again, if you want to attempt solo work, Mr. Nagro, director of both the Reserve and Freshman orchestras, will see that you get a fair trial.

Yes, these young aspiring artists are given their first chance in the Freshman Orchestra, molded into possible Varsity Orchestra members and thence to — who can tell, in all probability, future Kreislers, Iturbis, Heifetzs, etc.

However, they haven't been inactive during their extensive training. They have played at various grade schools in the city during Parent Week, and we have been told that their playing was wholly acceptable. Their annual recital in chapel always proves interesting. The Freshman Orchestra enables the freshmen to participate in another of the few underclass activities.

Senior Solo Class

FOR the first time in twenty-two years neither a Senior Boys' Glee Club nor Senior Girls' Glee Club has been organized. But a worthy society has come in its stead: The Senior Solo Class. Miss Hoffman, director of all voice culture classes, informed us that the demand for soloists is much greater than formerly. Alumni and other college men have written towns-people expressing their opinions concerning singing classes. Most of them agree that a soloist class is an ideal formation to prepare one for college work. Furthermore, Miss Hoffman stated that, owing to the increase in enrollment in her classes, she hasn't time to test each and every one for a glee club. The trials for the soloists are voluntary, thus eliminating many students who have no desire to attempt solo work. A few of these soloists sang at the Senior Music Festival where some of them appeared for the first time before an audience. Their performance on that evening promises much for the future.

A word may be said here concerning the Senior Accompanists' Class. Members of this group have frequently assisted the Solo Classes and other singing bodies. The membership this year was comparatively small; nevertheless, they proved valuable.

Service Club

WE proudly present the Service Club, the infant of them all, the newest addition to our family. The Service Club was introduced into Coughlin this year by Miss Tischler and the students of the sewing classes. It was made up of ambitious girls of the upper classes who had both the time and desire to be helpful. Regular meetings were held, officers were elected, and the club was conducted much as other clubs in our school family.

The work of this club is to take complete charge of all costumes that may be needed for the various plays and programs. To appreciate the zeal and ambition these girls possess one must be back-stage before and during any school play. Checking, pressing, washing and altering costumes are all duties of this group. Here there is no selfishness or laziness, as each girl willingly does her part to further the success of the event and to aid in the progress of this organization.

The entire success of our dramatic activities may have been attributed to those talented people who took part in the various presentations, but we take our hats off to these loyal workers who reaped none of the deserved honor.

Geography Club

EDUCATION is the chief factor in the foundation of an organization. Consequently the Geography Club which appears for the second time in our Album was formed with the aim of studying topics of geographic interest both afar and locally. Members have proven that this is an educational as well as a pleasure-seeking society by the selection of their programs.

Students in this club built a table-sized model of that ever famous "Little America". A contest was held among the members, who competed in compiling the best geographic scrapbooks, and in making the most attractive maps of the Antarctic Region. Membership in this organization is restricted only to those persons who have averaged 80% or more in geography, and who have passed all other subjects.

Due to the fact that the majority of programs were held indoors only a few places were visited; the Glendale Dairy, Evening News and Homestead Bakery had the honor of having these people as guests. An entire day was spent outdoors in celebration of the annual outing held at Hendler's Quarry, Bald Mountain.

Biology Club

WE bring to your attention another member of our family — The Biology Club. The Biology Club is under the direction of Mr. Shaffer and the biology teachers. Any biology student may join this club, but the offices are reserved for freshmen only. At various times throughout the year field trips were taken. Planting was done in observance of Arbor Day, and at Christmas the halls and auditorium were decorated by this group of students. In the spring the club gave a play for all biology students who were interested. The title of this production was "Dr. Gould and His Expedition to the South Pole." Rev. Frick gave an interesting talk on, "Out in the Fields With God" at the May club meeting. Another interesting activity of the club was the bird-house contest. These bird-houses were built according to plan and were judged on practicalness and beauty.

This club was formed four years ago and has shown rapid progress since that time. We are proud to include it as a member of the Coughlin Social Family.

Gold Medal Contest

MUCH enthusiasm and a strong desire to be a winner were manifested by every one taking part in the annual Contest in Shorthand and Typewriting held at Coughlin High School on Wednesday, May 8, 1935. The contest, divided in two parts, consisted of an Accuracy Test and a Speed Test.

The Accuracy Test consisted of a letter that was dictated at 100 words a minute, and was then transcribed from shorthand notes on the typewriter, free from any errors. The time taken to write this letter was also taken into consideration. This test was won by Helene Ziegler, who had a perfect paper written at the rate of 37 words per minute. Honorable mention was given to Isabel Weiss, whose paper was also perfect, written at the rate of 30 words a minute.

The Speed Test was new and unpracticed material, written for fifteen consecutive minutes. A penalty of ten words for each error was deducted from the gross number of written words.

The winner of this test, Catherine Conmy, wrote 4397 strokes or 879 words, with 6 errors, or at a net speed of 55 words per minute. Honorable mention was won by Michael Havrilak, who wrote 3911 strokes with 3 errors or at the rate of 50 words per minute.

The winners are to be congratulated for their splendid results. As a reward, a Gold Pin will be presented to each of them, on the night of Commencement.

Boys' Athletics

COUGHLIN reigns supreme! In this one amazing sentence we have a complete resume of Coughlin's athletic record during the seasons of 1934 and 1935. The various teams taken together, have succeeded in establishing a mark which no other school in this valley can approach.

At the close of the football campaign, Coughlin was tied with Kingston and Nanticoke to share with these schools the title of Champions of the Wyoming Valley Senior Conference. We also annexed the mythical city championship.

Ashley proved a stumbling block and managed to tie the heavily favored Red and Blue eleven. This provided the necessary stimulus to set the big Coughlin machine in action. They then proceeded to sweep the next four rivals from their path with apparent ease. Dallas Borough, Plymouth, Wyoming, and Meyers were the victims. Then the Larksville jinx cast its usual spell over Coughlin, and the West Side team held us to a scoreless tie. G. A. R. was decisively beaten on the following Saturday, and the season's climax was reached by the six to nothing victory over Nanticoke. This win established the Red and Blue as the only undefeated eleven in the valley and the logical favorite to rule as valley leaders. But Fate disregarded this impassioned Coughlin plea for an undefeated season, as our traditional rivals from Kingston handed us a stiff setback. Thus Coughlin ended the season with a record which will compare favorably with that of the greatest teams in the locality.

Coach "Red" Pendergast was again the helmsman of this fine team. He added greater glory to his already fine record as his '34 and '35 teams have the most successful record of the larger schools in the past two years. Teddy Casey rendered invaluable aid in developing a fast backfield in his first year as assistant coach.

This championship vein continued right into basketball where a magnificent Coughlin quintet staged a grand-stand finish to cop the Bi-County League pennant and also to become the outstanding city team. For fifteen years Coughlin has vainly struggled to secure the coveted trophy and finally Coach Bob West developed a winner.

A fine pre-season record which included two easy wins over Ashley, later to become district champions, ranked the Red and Blue as a real contender. Plains, Scranton Central, and Plymouth were taken in order. Nanticoke was victorious in the first engagement with Coughlin but the Red and Blue came back strong to triumph over Kingston. Scranton Tech provided the second and last defeat of the season. Then Coughlin ran rough-shod over Meyers, G. A. R., and Newport. The most amazing come-back in years was staged which saw Coughlin sweep through the entire league without the semblance of a defeat. Thrilling games were staged with Nanticoke, Tech and G. A. R. City ruling prohibited the team from entering into play-off competition for state honors.

Girls' Athletics

THE Coughlin Family Album presents another of the outstanding groups of our great family, the girl athletes. Girls' athletics are almost as old as our school itself, yet the interest and zeal shown by the majority of girls who enter Coughlin has kept these activities alive.

Miss Geraldine Daley replaced Miss Mary Louise Jones as girls' athletic director. Many new sports were introduced as fieldball, swimming, badminton, tennis, golf, as well as basketball, volleyball, track and tumbling.

Fieldball is a fall sport played on a hockey-field. It consists of eleven players on a team, a goal keeper, two half-backs, two quarter-backs, one full-back, a center, two guards, and two ends. The object of the game is to obtain a goal by a series of passes through the opponents' territory. The scoring is rated at three points for a goal.

An effort was made to form a regular team for competitive swimming, open to the girls in all four classes. Girls with ability for competitive swimming were eligible for practice and tryouts. The obstacle to this plan was the necessity of traveling to Meyers for practice. Although the endeavor was not entirely successful, it is hoped that, with such a promising start, complete success in this line will be accomplished in the very near future.

Tennis was introduced for the enjoyment of the girls who particularly like this type of sport. Contests were held and much interest was afforded the participants.

Golf was introduced for those girls who were interested and had some knowledge of the game. Unlike other sports, however, the team was not out for competition but purely for pleasure. Weather permitting, the girls play golf on the Hollenback Greens.

Badminton was introduced into the regular gym classes, although the tournament was open to all girls of the school.

There were twenty-eight participants in the tournament, which was won by two freshman girls.

This game is played much like tennis. The equipment used is tennis racquets, a five foot net, and a shuttlecock. The rules are similar to tennis rules.

The past basketball season was more successful than any Coughlin girls' team has boasted in a number of years. The team played games with Wyoming Seminary, Meyers, G. A. R., and Bucknell Junior College. They lost but one game, that with G. A. R. Excellent training and cooperation of the girls made this success possible.

Volleyball, also, had a successful season. The girls claimed the city championship, having won all games with Meyers and G. A. R. High Schools.

Track and tumbling also may be listed among the girls' sports.

Many fine things have been accomplished in this department this year and we wish to show our hearty appreciation to Miss Daley for her noble work.

Coughlin Chronicles

AS the school team of 1934-35 draws to a close, we look back and picture quite vividly the hours of mingled sadness and joy that have played their part in the making of one of the happiest years of our lives. It is all very clear now, as we sit back, and slowly recall the year's activities, but soon time will begin weaving its gray impenetrable mists and these recollections which we prize so dearly, will become vague and gradually fade away completely. It is to prevent this separation from our high school memories that we have arranged and placed here in our Family Album, a calendar of all school events, entertainments and social functions, hoping that in the years to come we may live again amid the scenes that we have loved best.

September 6. Coughlin opened its doors to a veritable horde of students. The enrollment was the largest since Meyers High School opened.

September 10. The cafeteria was opened and the regular routine of the school got off to a smooth start.

October 3. An informal dance was held with Donlin's Pennsylvanians supplying the music. Approximately two hundred and fifty attended.

October 8. Chief Flannery, Head of the Wilkes-Barre Fire Department, spoke to us in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

October 9. Mr. Kruger, a representative of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company, addressed all chemistry, physics, biology and general science students. His topic was "Better Light."

October 12. Coughlin paid fitting tribute to the founder of America with a short program, which included a brief talk and several recitations.

October 22. Mr. A. Lawren Brown, Educational Director of the Investors' Syndicate and a member of the Speakers' Bureau of the American Association of Economic Education lectured in chapel. His subject was the "Science of Money Management."

October 24. The annual campaign for Journal subscriptions took place. About eleven hundred students subscribed.

Ninety-three

Chronicles—continued

November 1. Mr. A. W. Kilup spoke to the school concerning the use of narcotics and its effect on public health.

November 5. Dr. Frederick Flinchbaugh, pastor of St. Stephen's Church, visited us in behalf of the Community Welfare Federation.

November 7. The Coughlin Varieties were presented to an audience composed of parents and students. The program was well liked by the large audience.

November 12. Armistice Day was celebrated with the singing of old war songs by the entire student body.

November 19. Dr. Luther Gable, world famous authority on radium spoke to us about this marvelous element and impressed upon our minds its great value along the lines of industry and medicine.

November 22. Another informal dance was held after school. Ralph Paul's Orchestra played.

November 23. Lesta the Magician thrilled the student body with his many tricks and humorous talks.

November 27. A Thanksgiving Day Program was presented. It included two talks dealing with the Pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving Day.

November 30. The football squad were guests at the annual Football Dance given by the Girl Reserves at the Y. W. C. A.

December 7. The Senior Play, "The Amazons" was given by an excellent cast and was well received by the audience.

Dec. 11. Mr. Doron, one of our school directors, entertained the football squad at a banquet prepared and served in our cafeteria.

December 31. "Christmas at Bracebridge Hall" was the title of our Christmas play. At its conclusion the students returned home for that much needed rest, the Christmas vacation.

January 2. Coughlin opened once more, all bright and shiny from a thorough overhauling during the holidays.

January 9. Tony Sarge's well-known troupe of puppeteers gave "The Wicked Magician."

January 29. Midyear exams got under way.

January 30. All exams were concluded, and the Clio-Sorosis Reception took place in the afternoon.

February 1. Cliff Battles, famed athlete, spoke to the boys of the school in connection with their joining the Craftsmen's Guild. Motion pictures illustrated his talk.

February 4. A drive for the enlargement for our entertainment fund was started. Little red tags were given to every contributor.

February 8. Winston O'Keefe, a cowboy from West Texas, delighted the student body with his interpretation of many old cowboy songs, typical of the old West.

February 12. Two scenes from Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," comprised our Lincoln's birthday program.

February 13. Mr. H. A. Leonard, a former faculty member in the Wilkes-Barre High School, was our guest in chapel. He spoke on Abraham Lincoln.

February 14. Professor Bradley Stooghlon, a faculty member of Lehigh University, explained the science of Metallurgy and showed the opportunities it offers for employment after graduation.

February 20. The Annual Coughlin Minstrel Show was presented and, as usual, the audience taxed the auditorium to the utmost.

February 28. The Senior class elected its officers.

March 11. Professor Dorizas of the University of Pennsylvania spoke on "Communitistic Russia." In the afternoon Mr. Snyder, noted news critic, talked about the newspapers of the country.

March 13. Theodore Alexander, cashier of the Second National Bank explained the National Housing Act to the school and the way in which it will help unemployment.

March 15. The Braidlin Campaign was held and yielded approximately twelve hundred subscriptions.

March 16. The annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention was called to order in New York City. Andrew O'Malley and Stanley Daugert represented Coughlin.

March 19. Charles A. Gorst, well known bird imitator and naturalist lectured before the school. He reproduced the songs of many birds.

March 22. Coughlin's athletes were honored by the school at the annual Athletic Banquet. Mr. Hobson Zerbe, our faculty manager, acted as toastmaster.

March 28. Buskins presented a one-act play, entitled, "The King's English," to the students in chapel.

March 29. Spring vacation began.

April 8. Vacation ended; the students returned eagerly to their work.

April 10. The Fraser-James Dance Group presented the history of the dance from Grecian days up to and including the modern German dance from Grecian days. Many picturesque costumes were featured in the different dances.

May 1. Bill Merrill, a former student of Coughlin, sang before the student body in chapel. He is, at present, studying music at Penn State.

May 3. Thomas Osterhout, a member of the Senior Class, spoke to the students in behalf of the coming Music Festival.

May 8. In keeping with National Music Week, Professor Ernest Bennett played several selections at the morning exercises.

May 10. This day proved quite a fitting one to bring to a close Coughlin's part in the celebration of National Music Week. In chapel a group of students from Susquehanna University, introduced by Professor George McCracken, presented a varied musical program, consisting of several violin and piano selections. Also, John Harrington and Marion Roberts urged the students to attend the All-Coughlin Banquet. At 8:15 in the evening of this eventful day the senior class presented the great Music Festival for which they had been preparing for months.

May 14. The Ithaca Choir, a group of thirty-five talented artists, presented a diversified musical program in the auditorium.

May 15. Miss Katherine Toohey, Dean of Girls, spoke concerning the National Red Cross. In the evening of the same day the annual All-Coughlin Banquet took place, with Ralph Paul playing for dancing.

May 22. The annual Athletic Exhibition was presented by the Physical Education Department.

June 6. Annual School Exhibit.

June 11. The Junior and Senior Outing was held again this year at the Irem Temple Country Club. Ralph Paul supplied the music for dancing.

June 13. Annual Class-Day.

June 14. The Class of 35 received their diplomas at a fitting ceremony. The address at the Commencement Exercise was delivered by Professor Gauss, the Dean of Princeton University.

Farewell

AS the class of 1935, you have almost completed your work in Coughlin High School and are soon to leave the guidance and care of the school. You are the last class that has had the privilege and inspiration of association with that great schoolman, our former principal, Mr. J. P. Breidinger.

No doubt many of you are wondering what you are going to do after graduation and this problem is confronting many other high school and college graduates throughout the country. But there is a place in the world for you although it will be a harder task for you to find it than it was for graduates of seven or eight years ago.

More and more is being expected of the high school of today, and we are glad to assume this responsibility. It will take you many years to discover what your high school course has meant to you, for good or bad, and perhaps you will never quite know. But if with our help you have acquired the ambition to strive constantly to improve yourselves, and if you have learned how to make this improvement you have acquired two traits of character that will probably bring you into that place in the world that should be yours. For by doing their best at all times and by always seeking to improve themselves, most men have come to find their niche in the world.

The faculty and student body all join me in wishing you great happiness and success.

J. H. Super.

COMMENCEMENT! This final and glorious event in the school life of the seniors at Coughlin is about to take place. The magic word is most significant, for it is actually the commencement of a new era for the graduates and a real step forward into the busy world about them.

Now we are about to take our place in the community — some to go on with higher education — some to go into business; all with the idea of advancing in whatever sphere they find themselves. It is a duty evolving on us who have had the advantages of the culture we have lived in and the training given us at Coughlin, to put forth our lives' best efforts toward the betterment of our fellowmen. We must feel it a sacred obligation never by any deed or word of ours to retard the advance of civilization or bring discredit on our Alma Mater and those unselfish, kindly teachers who gave unsparingly of their talents for our benefit. It behooves us to make our best contributions of thought and effort to the world of today.

If we reach the pinnacle of fame in sports, in music, in art, in literature or in business, we will do so largely because of the encouragement, the kindly advice, and patience given us in high school by our teachers. No matter where we are, or how far away we may go, our most cherished memories will be those of Coughlin. Locked in our hearts will be the precious friendships of classmates and teachers.

We shall miss you all — teachers, classmates, dear old Coughlin — the home of our happiest school days.

By the power of the greatest Teacher of all — let us pray that some day we may meet again.

Appreciation

IN Wilkes-Barre and the vicinity there is a group of business people who believe in Coughlin High School and in you. These men have seen fit and think it is to their advantage to advertise in the Braidlin. We know that this faith they have placed in us will not be unwarranted.

It is up to you, the students, to vindicate this trust by patronizing these people. We hope that their advertisements in the Braidlin will bring them large returns and that they will see fit to advertise with us again.

The Board of Publications wishes to thank the following for their assistance in helping to edit the Braidlin: Miss Gabriel, Miss Davis, Mr. W. A. Connor, Eleanor Jones, Doris Jordan, Lawrence Lyons, Richard Jordan, Albert Povecke.
